PowerShell Excel-lence:
A Revolutionary Approach to Microsoft 365

Clayton Tyger

Purpose of 365AutomatedLab

- Creating standards
- Tired of remembering which users, groups, etc
- Bulk deletion
- Consolidating files

Installation and Setup of 365AutomatedLab

- 365 Developer Program

- Install-Module –Name 365AutomatedLab

- Requirements
  - PowerShell v7.1+
  - ImportExcel
  - ExchangeOnlineManagement
  - Microsoft.Graph
  - PSFramework

- Windows and MacOS tested

Key Features of 365AutomatedLab

- Add and Remove Users/Groups/Teams/Sites with Excel

- Export Production Data to Excel

- Excel doesn't need to be installed

Core Functionality of 365AutomatedLab

- Creating Data Environments
- User and Group Management
  - Adding and Removing Users
  - Adding and Removing Groups from a User per Worksheet name
- Teams Management
- SharePoint Site Management

Questions?

- Creating Data Environments
- User and Group Management
    - Adding and Removing Users
    - Adding and Removing Groups from a User per Worksheet name
- Teams Management
- SharePoint Site Management

Additional Resources

- https://github.com/DevClate/365AutomatedLab

- https://www.powershellgallery.com/packages/365AutomatedLab

- Github: DevClate

- Blog: https://www.clatent.com

- Socials: Clatent or DevClate